Democratic Party Replaces Top Man In Chester County

A stunning upset Tuesday night in Chester county Democratic politics returned the party's top post to the southern section of the county in the hands of an insurgent.

Incumbent party chairman Francis M. Wampler was booted from the party's top spot by the man he defeated by one vote last November and expected to beat handily Tuesday night.

Wampler, of Kenilworth, was unable to explain his 12 vote defeat by Leo P. McDermott, a West Chester union leader. "I can't explain the defeat. I guess a lot of people told both of us they would vote for us."

McDermott was defeated in the November battle for the seat of Samuel Lichtenfeld, who retured to become a Common Pleas court judge.

WAMPLER IMMEDIATELY pledged his support to the man who defeated him. "I'll cooperate as much as I can. I'll do all I can in helping him."

He also indicated that he expects the support to be reciprocal. Wampler is the party's candidate for a State Senate seat in November.

Election of Wampler—or any Democratic candidate—was doubtful even before Tuesday night's upset. No Democrat has won in Chester county in the past 100 years. County registration is nearly 3-1 in favor of the GOP.

The election was in the Veterans of Foreign Wars post in West Chester. Two hundred sixty-one of the 273 eligible committeemen and committeewomen cast ballots in the secret election.

The closed ballot precluded any immediate analization of the upset vote of 136-124. Wampler has said Monday night that he expected an "easier" victory than the one-vote squeaker last November.

Following his defeat, he noted: "My information was that we would definitely win by a nice margin. I guess the information was wrong."

LAW ELECTED NEW HEAD OF LOCAL 4898

Wins by Big Margin In Pollock Union Voting

James H. Law was chosen president of the 120-member steelworkers local at Mayer Pollock Steel company by nearly a 2-1 margin Tuesday.

Law, of South Keim street, moved up from the vice presidency, succeeding Anthony Almond. Almond, who served two terms, was unopposed for financial secretary of Local 4898, United Steel Workers of America.

Slightly more than half the eligible voters cast ballots at the union hall, 1304 High street. Law's winning margin was 40-21.

Philip Carver was unopposed for the vice presidency. He also retained his place on the local's grievance committee, along with Andrew Glutz, defeated candidate for the presidency; William Trefsgar, unopposed for treasurer; and Frank Istenes.

ISTENES AND John Oshefsky were unopposed for guards. Others elected were Francis Dallabrida, guide; John Koren, recording secretary, and Gilbert Maute, Willard Jones and Dale Knepp, trustees.

Dallabrida topped John Washbill 40-19 in the contest for the recording secretary's post. Defeated in the race for trustee positions were Frank Glutz, John Kandoer and Joseph Legutko.

The polls, which opened at 1 p. m., closed at 8 p. m. At a meeting following the elections, the pact which ended the 35 day strike in March was signed.

The March walkout was the first at the plant. It resulted in the first updating of a contract in nearly 10 years. The pact is retroactive to Feb. 15. It strengthens union seniority rights, the only stumbling bloc during negotiations.

Rain Set to Spoil Season's Fine Start

Summer arrived with cloudy skies Tuesday morning. Then the day brightened up and brought an excellent impression of the new season.

Showers and thundershowers are a distinct possibility late today or early tomorrow, giving Summer a chance to show all her wares.

It will be mostly cloudy today, growing more overcast as the day lengthens, and slightly cooler than Tuesday.

The low this morning will be about 60, followed by a high of 75. The humidity, which was down to a comfortable 32 percent level Tuesday, will rise with the approach of the stormy weather.

A STORM system is moving east, southeastward from the Central plains. Unless it picks up speed today, the rain will not begin until early tomorrow.

As June turns from Spring to Summer, a look back shows the month has been comparatively cool. Overall temperatures have remained nearly average, but no high temperatures have been experienced.

USUALLY, POTTSTOWN sees several 90 degree days by this time of the year. In fact, there were nine 90 degree days in June last year. The warmest reading this year is an 87 reached way back on April 23.

Last year, the first day of Summer—June 21—brought a high of 84, followed by a top mark of 91 the following day.

Good weather with low humidity is the general outlook for the coming week, with the showers scheduled again Saturday.

Stanley G. Flagg and company will begin its plant vacation schedule July 1 but the offices will remain open. Office personnel take their vacations all during the year.

Neapco products incorporated will begin two weeks vacation July 4. Offices will remain open, however, during the first week but will close for one week beginning July 11.

Kiwi Polish company will also be closed from July 1-18 with only a skeleton crew on hand to take care of office work.

In all cases persons with more than two weeks vacation can take additional time during the rest of the year.

O'Toole was charged with disorderly conduct. The charge stemmed from a fight involving the defendant and Wilmer Guest, a Pottstonian with no known address.

Guest was fined the same amount after Kelley found him guilty of being drunk and disorderly. He was detained in the borough jail pending payment of the fine.

Girl Faces Charges In Wounding Father

TEEN-AGER IS RELEASED AFTER QUIZ

'She Was Protecting Mother,' Attorney Says

'DISCREPANCIES' NOTED, SAY POLICE

By BEN TEPLITZ
(Mercury Staff Writer)

Dian Kehler, Limerick teenager, Tuesday was quizzed nearly five hours about "discrepancies" in a story of how her father was shot in the back.

Charles P. Moody, chief of county detectives, conducted an examination in the district attorney's office, Norristown. He declared, "If the girl's father dies, Diane probably will face homicide. If he lives there could be three other charges."

The other charges might be aggravated assault and battery, assault with intent to kill and wantonly discharging a gun.

Diane's father, Albert, was shot Monday night at his home. Early this morning was in critical condition in Memorial hospital.

BECAUSE DIANE is a juvenile, she was released Tuesday in the custody of her mother, Wilma and her attorney, Louis Sager.

Sager said, "From all accounts, it appears that Diane tried to protect her mother when the father wielded a shotgun.

Moody declared, "I'm not giving out details, but there are discrepancies in the girl's story about her trying to aid the mother."

Surgery Grants New Life To Girl With Bad Heart

By GORDON GRIFFITHS
(Mercury Staff Writer)

During five and a half hours of unconsciousness early this month, Bonnie Bauer's entire life changed.

Looking forward to college and a teaching career, the 17-year-old Boyertown girl speaks purposefully about her future, with the spectre of a damaged heart just a memory.

Bonnie was literally frozen June 3, as University of Pennsylvania surgeons repaired a hole in her heart which threatened her with a shortened life span.

Ten years ago, such surgery was impossible. Bonnie would have been faced with the possibility of slowly growing weaker, and a life of only 35 years.

TODAY THE operation performed on Bonnie quickly erased this haunting prospect, and her heart is normal—her chance of reaching old age equal to everyone else's.

Bonita Ann Bauer was born with a hole the size of a quarter between the two upper chambers of her heart. Physicians first told her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harold L. Bauer, when Bonnie was a baby, that their daughter had a heart murmur.

Her activities were never restricted, and as she advanced through Boyertown Area High school, she participated in more extra curricular pursuits than an average person.

Bonnie says, "I never felt badly, but I was always tired." She was a cheerleader from Junior High school on, joined the Girls' Leader corps, and started accumulating an "A" average which eventually brought her out in the top ten pupils of her class.

LAST SUMMER, Bonnie went to Allentown General hospital, where tests proved conclusively that her murmur was caused by a hole between the two upper chambers of her heart.

This allowed impure blood returning from the body to pass through the hole and mix with the pure blood coming from the lungs.

Under these circumstances, doctors told Bonnie she should consider an operation to correct the congenital condition. The birth defect could enlarge, putting a strain on her heart, and finally causing attacks and failure.

In any event, her activities would be limited, and her life span would be about 35 years, according to histories of such cases.

THEN, THE past Fall, Bonnie was asked to curtail her activities. She dropped cheerleading and gym classes. But she was named secretary of the Senior Executive committee.

Bonnie went to Allentown again in February with her parents. Her doctor proposed the operation to correct the defect.

Bonnie asked if it was dangerous. The doctor replied, "It's no more dangerous than any other operation . . . they're all danger-

Bonnie Bauer is resting at home after a successful heart operation completely cured a birth defect which threatened to shorten her life. The 17 year old Boyertown girl, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold L. Bauer, is reading a book which was a gift to her while at the University of Pennsylvania hospital. She plans to enter Kutztown State college in the Fall, the future opened to her through surgery that was impossible ten years ago.

Girl Selects Her Birthday Date As Day of Summer's Hottest Time

A host of new entries in The Mercury Weather Editor, King Mercury's High Temperature contest was recorded Tuesday —including one from a Pottstown girl who chose her birthday as the day on which the season's hottest moment will occur.

Among the dozens of persons vying for the $130 in prizes that will go to the person who comes nearest to guessing the exact time during June, July and August when the Summer's highest temperature is reached is Bonnie L. Frey, 812 North Evans street.

Her birthday is July 28—the date she chose and the time she selected at 3:14 p. m.

Four other members of the Frey family also entered the contest Tuesday. Bonnie's father guessed at August 2 at 2:45 p. m. Shirley said August 12 at 4:02 p. m.; Robert, July 15 at 2:37 p. m. and Nancy, July 10 at 3:32 p. m.

Anyone can clip the entry form on page 2 of today's Mercury, fill in the exact month, day and minute he thinks the temperature will zoom to the top, and mail his guess to The Mercury Weather Editor, King and Hanover streets. Or simply bring the coupon into the office.

Khrushchev Claims Spy Planes Missed Strategic Bases

LONDON (AP)—Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev Tuesday downgraded the importance of U.S. spy-plane flights.

He said they missed photographing Russia's strategic rocket bases, discovered nothing of importance to U. S. defense and failed to uncover "powerful military means" the Soviet Union has developed.

In a speech at the Third Congress of the Romanian Communist party in Bucharest in which he pictured recent events in Korea, Japan and Turkey as a slap in the face at the United States, the Soviet leader also leaped personally into the current ideological battle with Peiping.

The speech was reported by Tass, official Soviet news agency and broadcast by Moscow radio.

Western newsmen were reported by the Sofia radio to have been barred from the session. It was attended by the leading figures of European Communist countries.

The Red Chinese have been indirectly criticising Khrushchev's policies, by quoting Lenin that war is inevitable between communism and capitalism.

"We have no intention of yielding to provocation and departing from the general line of our foreign policy," Khrushchev said.

This, he said, is "a policy of coexistence, a policy of strengthening peace, relaxation of international tensions and liquidation of the cold war."

This policy, he added, was directly related to the line laid down by the 20th Soviet Party Congress of 1956 that "war is not inevitable in our time."

This policy has been affirmed, he added, by the 1957 Declaration of Communist States. Red China was a signer of this declaration.

Khrushchev did not directly mention Red China, but said "those who do not understand this do not believe in the power of creative abilities of the working class, underestimate the might of the socialist camp and do not believe in the great attractiveness of socialism which has clearly demonstrated its advantages over capitalism."

At the end he read greetings from the Central Committee of the Soviet Communist party which declared the Romanian Communist party was coming out actively in support of the policy of coexistence.

As to the spy-plane flights, Khrushchev said, "we know that two or three years ago they photographed the areas of the proving grounds where we conduct experimental rocket launchings. It was a rocket weapon testing grounds that they photographed, and not strategic rocket bases."

"The fame of spy pilot Powers, though he was, of course, only a small poisonous bug in the service of the Pentagon brass, will go down in the history of America as a disgraceful incident, together with the names of those who sent him on his bandit flight," Khrushchev said.

Anti-Sub Missile Revealed by Navy

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP) — The Navy Tuesday unveiled to the press what it called its newest and deadliest anti-submarine missile system.

Rear Adm. P. D. Stroop, chief of the Bureau of Naval Weapons, said it represents "a significant advance in the Navy's anti-submarine warfare program."

ASROC is capable of delivering either an acoustic homing torpedo or a depth charge to an enemy submarine while the launching ship is thousands of yards away.

The missile was fired from the USS Norfolk at three ranges in an exercise to show the versatility and effectiveness of the new weapon.

The rocket was fired from the stern deck of the ship. Though exact figures on the range and speed of ASROC were not released, the deadly purpose was apparent.

Dr. Linus Pauling Refuses to Name Fellow Scientists

WASHINGTON (AP) — Risking contempt of Congress action, Nobel Prize winner Linus Pauling Tuesday defied Senate investigators. He refused to name other scientists who helped him gather signatures for petitions opposing nuclear weapons tests.

"No matter what assurances the subcommittee might give me, I am convinced these names would be used for reprisals (against) idealistic, high minded workers for peace," Dr. Pauling declared.

The 59-year-old California Institute of Technology chemist did not invoke the Fifth Amendment. Instead, he told the Senate Internal Security subcommittee he took his stand "as a matter of conscience, as a matter of morality, as a matter of justice."

Acting Chairman Thomas J. Dodd (D-Conn)—who had assured Pauling the subcommittee was not trying to "torment you, to harass you"—ordered Pauling to produce the names at a hearing on Aug. 9.

But the lean, tall scientist told newsmen his decision is irrevocable; that no threat of prosecution for contempt would budget him.

"Do you think anybody tells me what to do—with threats?" he demanded.

"I make up my own mind. If I want to take a chance I take a chance."

Rioting Japanese Mobs Occupy Railroad Stations

TOKYO (AP) — Thousands of screaming left-wingers clamped a 4-hour transport shutdown on Japan Wednesday in the prelude to nationwide strikes and mass demonstrations. The aim was to prevent the new U.S.-Japanese security treaty from taking effect.

Massed formations from the Red-tinged Sohyo Labor Federation and the Radical Zengakuren Student Federation took control of all major railroad stations in Tokyo and other major cities during the night.

After brief fights with railroad guards, they occupied 16 Tokyo signal stations, blocked station entrances and sang the Communist internationale under a sea of Red banners.

At least two persons were injured at the outset.

The new protests, capping a month of rioting outbursts, represented a last-ditch, Communist-led attempt to topple premier Nobusuke Kishi's government and block the security pact.

The leftist students and unionists pulled out of the railroad stations after holding up more than a million commuters in Tokyo alone.

Later, the government workers' union blocked all entrances to the Defense Ministry, Finance Ministry and other government offices with massive sitdowns.

Police mobilized about 8,000 officers to meet any violence.

The 3½-million-member Sohyo labor federation said more than five million persons would join the Zengakuren student federation and other leftists desiring to neutralize Japan in the East-West struggle.

Kishi was reported Tuesday to have told Secretary-General Shojiro Kawashima of his ruling Liberal-Democratic party that he will announce his intention to resign as soon as the treaty goes into force.

Japanese ratification of the treaty automatically became final at midnight Sunday.

The pact goes into force after U.S. Senate approval and exchange of ratification documents by the United States and Japan.

The Cabinet decided to exchange the documents a day or two after the U.S. Senate acts, but the demonstrators hope to postpone it until after a general election. Kishi has shown no inclination to give in.

The demonstrations were aimed around the Diet building, Kishi's official residence, the offices of the Metropolitan Police Board, the U.S. Embassy, and the Foreign Ministry.

Attorney General Will Act Against Pinball Machines

SPRING LAKE, N.J., (AP)—Pennsylvania Atty. Gen. Anne X. Alpern Tuesday said she will order State police to seize all multiple coin pinball machines in Pennsylvania as illegal.

She acted after the U.S. Supreme Court Monday refused to review a Pennsylvania Supreme Court decision that the machines are gambling devices subject to State seizure.

"Multiple coin pinball machines are now on their way out of Pennsylvania," she said when contacted at the Summer meeting of the Pennsylvania Bar association here.

The action by the Supreme Court "should put a final period on the Comonwealth's claim that multiple coin pinball machines are illegal per se without any proof needed of gambling," Miss Alpern said.

The Supreme Court refused to consider the case saying it was not a properly presented federal question.

VOTE DELAYED ON OKAY FOR JAP TREATY

Secretary of State Is Questioned by Senators

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Tuesday night put off until Wednesday a vote on ratification of the new U.S.-Japanese security treaty.

At the request of Majority Leader Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex), the Senate agreed to permit a half hour's additional debate on the treaty Wednesday.

Although debate on the pact dragged on for about seven hours today, there was no evidence of concerted opposition.

Ratification appeared assured, although some Senators expressed doubt about some provisions.

Senate ratification would leave only two steps to put the treaty into effect: President Eisenhower's signature on the ratification and an exchange of documents between Japan and the United States.

The pact has touched off day after day of left wing rioting in Tokyo — violence which forced cancellation of President Eisenhower's visit to Japan this week.

Secretary of State Christian A. Herter made a plea for speedy ratification.

Going before a Senate Appropriations subcommittee to plug for his department's budget, the Secretary ran into a barrage of questions about how the United States got into such an embarrassing situation.

Herter made a strong plea that the Senate act quickly to ratify the treaty. It would assure Japan of U.S. protection, under more favorable conditions for itself than at present, over the next 10 years and would permit U.S. bases to stay on Japanese soil. The agreement on the bases was a main target of the demonstrators.

Shortly after Herter told the Senators the sooner they acted the better, Senate floor debate on the treaty was opened by Sen. J. William Fulbright (D-Ark), chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

Princess Arrives For Father's Funeral

NEW YORK (AP) — Princess Grace and Prince Rainier of Monaco arrived at Idlewild Airport Tuesday night en route to Philadelphia to attend the funeral of the princess' father, John B. Kelly Sr.

The couple was accompanied by the Rev. Francis Tucker, spiritual adviser to the royal family of Monaco, and Miss Phillis Blum, secretary to the princess.

Kelly died in Philadelphia Monday at the age of 70.

VOLCANO ERUPTS

MOSCOW (AP)—A 48-hour eruption of the Durandag mud volcano, one of several volcanos in the Alyatsk range of Azerbaijan, has shifted part of the Durandag mountain peak 10 or 12 yards, the Soviet news agency Tass reported Tuesday. The flow of gas and mud has now subsided. The volcano lies about 35 miles from Baku, Azerbaijan's capital.

Ike Relaxes In Honolulu; Given Set of Golf Clubs

HONOLULU (AP) — President Eisenhower unwound from the tension of his Far East trip Tuesday by golfing with a new set of clubs in the shadow of a Hawaiian mountain summit.

A sudden downpour caught him and his three golfing companions on the fairway of the third hole. Eisenhower and his party huddled under the protective branches of a clump of kewa trees, then resumed the game in a mist a few minutes later. A cool breeze swept the course as the President teed off at 8 a.m. in 70 degree weather.

A top aide reported Eisenhower, cheered by some 100,000 Hawaiians on his arrival Monday, was bouncing back from the weariness caused by his fast-moving 16,000 mile journey to the Philippines, Formosa, Korea and Okinawa.

Diplomatic officials with him meanwhile urgently scanned cabled confidential reports on worldwide repercussions to the blow-up of his scheduled visit to Tokyo.

Eisenhower was in a jolly mood as he teed off, even though he appeared to be having trouble adjusting to the new clubs. His initial drive, a low liner of some 175 yards, was the weakest of the foursome.

Playing with Eisenhower were his son, Lt. Col. John Eisenhower, Brig. Gen. Andrew J. Goodpaster, White House secretary, and James C. Hagerty, presidential news secretary.

Eisenhower used a set of clubs given him Monday by the Kaneohe Klipper Marine golf course which is on the grounds of the secluded air station which is his vacation headquarters.

Inscribed on the head of each club were the words "Aloha from Kaneohe."

The President will spend the remainder of the week golfing and relaxing. His only activities include a reception in his honor Friday by Republican Gov. William F. Quinn. On the same evening he is to receive an honorary law degree from the University of Hawaii.

Eisenhower grumbled as he tested his new clubs on a practice tee. He grimaced unhappily as he flubbed or hooked about half of his 40-odd practice shots.

Eisenhower was dressed in a tan short-sleeve sports shirt, tan slacks and black and white moccasin golf shoes. He wore a white ventilated golf cap with a blue peak.

On the front, the insignia was "Kaneohe Marines Golf Course." Eisenhower traveled the course on a blue and cream electric golf cart driven by a Secret Service agent. He has used such golf carts regularly since his 1955 heart attack.

Eisenhower decided to use his golf cart from the practice area to the first tee, a distance of some 100 yards. He started to walk, then decided against it, saying: "Well, I guess I'll ride over there."

Eisenhower apparently got in 18 holes of golf Monday a few hours after his arrival in this balmy island resort. Hagerty had announced he played only nine holes but the word at the course Tuesday morning was that he played 18 and scored 85 on the 72-par course.

BEN-GURION, FRONDIZI WILL DISCUSS CASE

Eichmann Capture Ramifications Involved

BRUSSELS, Belgium (AP)—An Israeli spokesman said Tuesday night Israeli Prime Minister David Ben-Gurion will meet here Friday with Argentine President Arturo Frondizi to discuss the Adolf Eichmann case, the Belgian radio reported.

At separate news conferences 300 miles apart earlier, both Ben-Gurion and Frondizi said a meeting might be a good idea.

But diplomatic sources close to Frondizi, who is in Bern, Switzerland, said Argentina still will press its case against Israel in the United Nations Security Council. Frondizi is reported to have made this decision after a telephone talk with Mario Amadeo, Argentina's U.N. ambassador.

Argentina accuses Israel of violating Argentine sovereignty in spiriting Eichmann out of the country to Israel, where the former Gestapo official faces trial on charges of helping organize the Nazi extermination of six million Jews. He had been living in Argentina under a false name for years.

Israel, Ben-Gurion noted, stilll has the death penalty for Nazi war criminals.

Israel has been criticized for accepting Eichmann from volunteer Israeli commandos, as they have been officially called. There has also been some question of whether Israel has the right to try Eichmann.

New Diplomat Arrives

OTTAWA (AP)—A young diplomat took over Tuesday as Cuba's charge d'affaires in Canada. He is Manuel Stolik, 23, who arrived Monday from Havana.

Luis A. Baralt Mederos, 32, resigned last week as Cuba's ambassador and sought political asylum in Canada because of policy disagreements with Prime Minister Fidel Castro's government.

BALLET ARRIVES

HAVANA (AP) — The Georgia ballet from the Soviet Union has arrived in Cuba and will open a series of appearances here Wednesday.

A 40-member opera company from Red China is now touring eastern Cuba after playing to large crowds in Havana.

Talking and eloquence are not the same: to speak, and to speak well are two things. A fool may talk, but a wise man speaks.—(Ben Jonson)

The Hurry to Adjourn

CONSERVATIVES in Washington continue to battle against a mass of undesirable legislation while seeking to determine the possible effects of Nelson Rockefeller's attack on the Eisenhower administration and on Vice President Nixon.

Part of the Rockefeller statement was directed at some of the hottest issues now awaiting action by Congress.

His views on these issues were sharply challenged by the conservatives.

Governor Rockefeller called for

(1) a $3 billion increase in defense spending (contrary to the Eisenhower conviction that present defense spending is entirely adequate).

(2) Federal aid for school construction (contrary to the opinion of those who think that this is a problem for the states and localities to solve), and

(3) medical help for the aged through the present Social Security system (contrary to the views of those who think the federal government should stay out of this field).

Other Rockefeller legislative recommendations, on which no action is likely at this session of Congress, included: Revision of tax policies to encourage investment, elimination of featherbedding, and giving the President discretionary authority to use compulsory arbitration in settling economic conflicts.

There is widespread support for tax reform legislation along the lines of the Herlong-Baker bill which, among other things, would lower the personal and corporation income tax rate to a maximum of 47 percent by a series of five annual reductions. A determined effort is being made to obtain congressional approval next year.

Conservatives in Congress also would strongly support proper legislation to eliminate featherbedding.

But they are bitterly opposed to any legal requirement for compulsory arbitration. They are in complete agreement with Vice President Nixon's statement on this subject. He said:

"I have stated on several occasions that I am against compulsory arbitration of labor disputes, because I know that compulsory arbitration, from my study of this matter as a member of the labor committee of the House and from my observation of compulsory arbitration laws in operation in Australia and in certain European countries, inevitably results in wage control by government, and that means, in my opinion, a government-controlled economy."

Thus, this legislative situation makes certain that there will be strong congressional opposition on some subjects—and a degree of support (depending on details) on others—to Governor Rockefeller's efforts to have his views approved by Congress.

Meanwhile, a series of battles raged in Congress as the deadline for adjournment neared.

The national political conventions start on July 11 and Congress must finish its work by that time or else reconvene later—a prospect that virtually everyone affected views with horror.

In this connection, Conservatives point out that a simple solution is available to those who are fearful that Congress cannot complete action on the mass of pending legislation in time for the conventions. The proposed solution is this:

Let all bills die which provide for budget-busting spending and boosting the size of the federal bureaucracy in Washington.

Such measures would include: Federal aid to education, Federal air for housing, medical care for the aged, increasing the minimum wage, increasing the salary of government employes, and permitting secondary boycotts in the construction industry.

By eliminating further consideration of these issues, Congress could devote its time to essential legislation and the necessary appropriation bills.

Those advocating this procedure point out that a session of Congress should never be judged on the basis of the number of bills enacted—but should be judged on the basis of the quality and essentiality of legislation approved.

No Difference

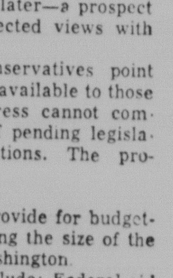

A psychologist claims that big men make the most acquiescent husbands. So do big women.

Grampaw Oakley

PUNKIN CORNERS,
June 21.

Editor, The Mercury,
Dear Sir 'n' Brother:

Wal, I see by the papers where two Kansas prison escapees were nabbed hiding in a child's playhouse. Their little game didn't work—the cops were playing for keeps!

A Milwaukee rag picker leaves an estate valued at $741,000. Now, there's a fresh angle on that old rags-to-riches theme!

A recent poll showed 4 percent of us Americans have never even heard of the U-2 incident. You, too?

And say: A Nike rocket-propelled sled reached a speed of 2,650 miles per hour at Alamogordo, N.M., in an Air Force test. If Santa Claus had one of those he wouldn't need any reindeer.

Hopin' you air the same,

Bargain Hunter Buys Foreign 'Junk'

Workers Themselves to Blame

To the Editor: ("Who Buys Foreign Goods," Readers Say, June 20) makes a fine point when he says foreign-made goods are taking work away from Pottstown workers.

He makes another fine point when he says Pottstown should buy American. We're all for that.

He says foreign goods should be rejected when American goods is available. Hurrah for him!

But he puts all the blame on the merchant. That's the wrong place for such finger-pointing.

He should educate the man in the shop, or, in other words, the buyer.

Tell me, who buys this foreign junk? It's the man who pays union dues who is slicing his own throat.

Who buys cheaply? Look around in the shop.

Who uses scab labor to put in a bathroom or instal an oil burner? Who goes out and gets the cheapest ditch-digger? Who goes into competition with painters when there are strikes and takes painting jobs?

Ah, C. D. Lite, you haven't seen it! You guys are killing the goose that lays the golden egg. You're pricing American goods out of the market.

I wish you would look into the workroom of that union man across the street. How many tools made in foreign countries are on his shelf? Where were those nails brought? What's that foreign car doing in his garage?

Merchants display foreign goods because they are asked to sell it. If you wouldn't buy, it wouldn't be on their shelves.

But you'd better learn how to produce at a competitive rate. You're buying yourself out of jobs. When will you see the light and convert your fellow worker?

Pottstown ESAU GLOOM

Remedy for Delinquency

To the Editor: Who knows the remedy for the insidious cancer of delinquency that is gradually eating the vitals of integrity out of our social body and is plaguing our proponents of propriety all the way from J. Edgar Hoover on down?

Some of the delinquents themselves do; the rest of us could and should.

Five delinquent Iowa boys were asked by the magazine of their training school: "If you were married, what would you do to keep your children out of trouble?"

One boy replied, "I would teach them to always tell the truth—even though it might hurt at times. This would help them to become good citizens and would stay with them throughout their lives."

Another got right down to rock bottom. Said he, "I would teach them the Ten Commandments and have them learn to obey them. I also would teach them to respect all people of authority."

All of which just revives that old question, still so pertinent even if now trite—Should we diagnose the malady as "delinquency of children" or as "delinquency of parents?" And don't forget—many of the delinquents themselves know the true answer!

Pottstown RD 18 CONCERNED

Is This Progress?

To the Editor: School boards have come a long way!

Some years back they met in the general store and anyone could eavesdrop. (They usually did.)

They were composed mainly of farmers and the books balanced in black.

Now the boards meet in secret and we have all this fuss and debt. Where is the end?

Schwenksville RD 1 USE NO NAME

Sights of Spring

To the Editor: Summertime is bad enough when those broad-bottomed females squeeze themselves into slacks, but this year it's worse because skirts now are higher.

Believe me, it's terrible the way the young run around with dress skirts up above their knees. The men get a thrill out of it, because I see some of the old men's eyes popping.

But what do these girls have back of their minds? Seems the ones with the worst legs wear the shortest skirts.

The streets aren't the place for these ballet skirts or whatever you call them, or for those toreador pants that the woman put themselves into.

Summer is a time for beauty not for broad beams and spindly legs.

Pottstown MRS. L. T.

The Voice of Broadway

By DOROTHY KILGALLEN

Jottings in Pencil

THE KOOKIEST buzz in the London theatrical set has young beatnik actress Joan Plowright reluctant to marry Sir Laurence Olivier, fearing it might "hurt her career."

Friends say that even if he manages the divorce from Vivien Leigh, Joan has decided she doesn't want to be the next Lady Olivier, and instead of coming to the United States with Larry in September, she'd prefer to stay in England—possibly as a member of the cast of "The Sea Gull" which will star Judith Anderson. Sounds mighty odd.

Joan Cohn, once Mrs. Harry Cohn, and then—briefly—Mrs. Harry Karl, is understandably gloomy over Laurence Harvey's departure for Europe.

LEON URIS, author of "Exodus," is making it clear that he doesn't completely approve of the way Otto Preminger is filming the novel. Asked why he didn't protest to Preminger, the writer said, "I never argue with someone I don't speak to."

Della Reese's marriage has taken on a novel complexity. Her husband has been ordered to pay his ex-wife alimony—after he was declared "not officially divorced."

Dirk Bogarde, who just finished making a movie with Ava Gardner, does the parlor psychiatry bit about the fascinating star. "She is still very much in love with Frank Sinatra," he says, "but they can't get on together. They're miserable together, miserable apart. Of course, she'd break out once in a while and do the flamenco—this is 'old mum's' pet diversion. But mostly she'd stay at home, brooding."

The Worry Clinic

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

HORACE F., aged 46, is married to an attractive woman of 35.

"Dr. Crane, I've been getting drunk pretty often lately," he confessed, "and it's just to get away from an unsolved problem.

"If I don't find a solution soon, I'm afraid I'll end it all by a bullet through my head.

"About three months ago I became impotent. It drove me frantic.

I've tried all sorts of medicines and hormones, gonadal injections and so forth, but to no avail.

"Can you give me any hope at all? If not, what about my wife? Should I accept pity or offer her a divorce? She is young and pretty.

"In all justice, shouldn't I urge her to try her luck with another marriage? I'm just a millstone around her neck at present.

(Always write to Dr. Crane in care of The Mercury, enclosing a long 4c stamped, addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his booklets.)

"I've read your column diligently so it has been with a prayer in my heart that I have come here to see you in person. This is my zero hour."

I HAVE reproduced Horace's exact comments so you readers can see the emotional state of the typical male when he becomes frightened over his waning sexual vigor.

After being married for several years, millions of husbands begin to notice a lack of their former ardor. They have increasing difficulty growing excited over their wives and after 40 to 50 they finally become sarcastic and fault-finding, or drunken or enamoured of other younger women.

They seldom acknowledge such fears to their mates, for their male pride will not permit such an admission.

So they try to camouflage their difficulty in the hope of diverting their wife's attention from the real problem. That's one reason why they grow unduly bitter or sarcastic.

Thus, they pick on her about trifles, such as her cooking or supposedly poor housekeeping. In their sex panic they even lose interest in their children.

Then they may demand twin beds and brutally wound their wife's ego by telling her she isn't attractive any more and they don't love her.

THIS ISN'T the truth, but an alibi to excuse their failures to seek marital relations.

Sometimes they indulge in self-pity. Other victims will magnify the sex desires of their wife and wonder if they shouldn't commit suicide or give her a divorce so she can be free to seek a second husband.

The wives usually are uncomplaining about such a husband's impotence, but when a man loses his sexual vigor, he imagines his wife craves an undue amount of sex.

Horace isn't organically impotent. I cured him in an hour's interview. But he had grown worried over his vigor. This made him analytical. So he watched himself out of the corner of his eye.

But you cannot be analytical and emotional at the same time! Thus, the moment that a man grows worried and fearful, he can soon kill his sexual desire, even in 24 hours.

Most men are impotent for psychological reasons! An active and seductive wife can readily cure this type of impotence just by becoming more aggressive in the bedroom.

Inside Television

By EVE STARR

STARR REPORT: Television, already hard upon the Summer dog days, showed a small spark of life last weekend perhaps the last gasp of originality we'll have until next month when the Democratic convention takes to the air.

Anyway, George Gobel, in his last outing of the season, chose to revert to the Gobel of five years ago.

I can recall, five years ago, making a dollar bet with someone—unfortunately, I've forgotten whom—that Gobel, then a freshman, would take his place among the standard comics and would still be around five years later.

He's taken his place and he's still around, but for the past couple of years he's been carried pretty much by his own momentum.

Sunday he finally got around to being his old self again. But next year Lonesome George plans to give up the weekly outing and concentrate on five or six specials, devoting the rest of his time to nightclubs and golf.

STEVE ALLEN made his farewell appearance the next evening. He, too, will not be returning on a regular basis. For his swan song, Steve invited Mort Sahl aboard.

Sahl is not a man who appeals to too many people. Most people don't dig him. Those who do, dig him the most. Me, I dig him the almost.

After annihilating both John Kennedy and Richard Nixon, in fine nonpartisan style, he observed that it might be a good thing if we were to open this country to Russian spies or even to give Russia all our missile secrets, then they'd be two years behind.

THERE WILL be more of Sahl on the air this Summer, for he's already been set to guest on a few of the Spike Jones shows on CBS. Spike starts a nine-week run August 1 as Ann Sothern's Summer replacements.

Most of the hot weather fare will, however, be the usual hash of repeats and re-runs.

(Technically speaking, a repeat is a re-showing of episodes from a series that has been on all season; a re-run is the return of an old series, such as "Peck's Bad Girl," slated for a 12-week run on Wednesdays via CBS.) Now is the time to renew those library cards!

Interpreting The News

Nixon, Rockefeller—What Is Contrast?

By JACK BELL
Associated Press Observer

Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller will have to overlook some major policy differences with Vice President Richard M. Nixon in campaigning for the GOP ticket this Fall.

Nixon, the expected Republican presidential nominee, drew some sharp contrasts with the New York governor's position in outlining his economic views in a St. Louis, Mo., speech Tuesday.

In turn, Rockefeller revived in a Binghamton, N. Y., speech the proposal for a first secretary of government that President Eisenhower—and Nixon—once considered and abandoned.

Rockefeller renewed his contention that the summit collapse, the spy plane incident and subsequently the "unhappy fate" of Eisenhower's plan to visit Japan shows there is something seriously wrong in Washington's decision-making processes.

He said a first secretary, working directly under the president, could tie together the loose ends in national security and international affairs.

While he has made no public speeches on the first secretary proposal, Nixon generally has defended the administration's course in the spy plane and summit affairs. He has gone along with the administration's position that rioting in Japan was Communist-inspired.

In St. Louis, Nixon hooted at those he said are playing a game of "growthmanship" by advocating measures to expand the American economy to meet the threat of Soviet competition in this field.

Saying there is "need for the American economy to grow faster," Rockefeller has called for action to gear national policies to an annual growth rate of 5 to 6 per cent.

In contrast, Nixon said "the growthmanship school argues that the government should plan and manipulate the economy to arrive at an arbitrary, fixed percentage rate of growth."

Nixon said there is no way of comparing Soviet and American economic growth. Anyway, he said the Soviet Union can't catch up with the United States in this century. To support this he said the total Soviet production of goods and services is 44 per cent of that of the United States today, just as it was in 1939.

The differences of viewpoint are going to have to be balanced against the areas where the two men agree fundamentally when Rockefeller undertakes his proposed nationwide tour to help elect national GOP candidates this fall.

There will be other points of difference, too.

Nixon has squarely opposed Rockefeller's proposal that the President be authorized to order compulsory arbitration in strikes—such as the steel walkout which he helped to settle—that affect national security.

There has been no hint that Nixon ever will support Rockefeller's call for a 500-million-dollar civil defense program.

"Not another proposal, Wilbur!"

ALL AROUND THE TOWN

$5 for $100? . . . What's New in Cars . . .

★ NO TAKERS—Joseph L. Prince, the Pottstown lawyer, was telling a group of friends Monday night he got a Lucky Buck in a Pottstown store. "Probably worth only three bucks. But I'll sell it to anybody for $5," he proposed. There were no takers. Tuesday morning Prince came into The Mercury and got $100 for the buck! . . . The Woodrow Freeds, Swamp pike, New Hanover (Mr. and Mrs. and Daughter Carol) are preparing for an airplane trip to Alaska. They'll leave Saturday, touching at Seattle and Juneau, and then moving to Haines. There they'll visit relatives, Mr. and Mrs. Bielski, former Pottstonians who've been in the new State for seven years. . . June, the month of brides! Want a toast? Here's to love—the only fire against which there's no insurance!

SURPRISE—Pottstown Policeman Joe Thees came upon a new one the other day. Who said there was nothing new under the sun? Policeman Thees spotted a youth driving a golf cart, the kind they use to transport golfers on the courses, on King street. First he asked where the license tag was, and the kid picked up a dealer's tag from the floor. Joe nixed that and chased the boy off the street. . . This incident wasn't as silly as the reader who reported grown-up men driving homemade soapbox derby racers powered by washing machine or lawn mower motors. And on the public streets, too! . . . Or this toast: Here's to matrimony, the high sea for which no compass has yet been invented.

Contrary to general belief, people do not become immune after age 40 to diseases they missed during childhood. Doctors say the same precautions should be taken to avoid measles, mumps, whooping cough and like, as are taken to avoid other forms of illness. . . Toast to the bride: To home—the place where we're treated best and grumble most!

QUOTE—Donald I. Rogers, business editor of the New York Herald-Tribune, Came up with this one: "To any and all candidates who this year are seeking election to public office, I hereby serve the following notice: I will cast my vote, positively pledge it, for whichever candidates do not promise me a single, solitary 'benefit'; conversely, I will vote against any who promise to improve my lot. I've been improved all I want to be and, by golly, my lot can't afford any further improvement." . . . ★ LOCALE—Chile, recently rocked by earthquakes, measures 2650 miles long but has an average width of only 110 miles. Larger than Nevada, Utah, and Idaho combined, Chile covers 286,000 square miles. Islands account for a sixth of its area. To the frustration of beach-lovers, most of Chile faces the Pacific with steep cliffs unbroken by sloping shores or curving bays. For hundreds of miles in the north, the sea wall often rises to 3000 feet. . . Europeans once ate flowers. Your Health

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

DOES FIDO, the family pet, have to leave when the new baby comes home from the hospital?

People, especially childless couples, develop great affection for pets. Children do, too. And the friendship that exists between a boy and his dog is indeed a beautiful thing.

Dogs, cats, even parakeets and other pets, usually give a child more pleasure than any kind of toy. Here is something that can be loved and often can return the love.

Having a pet is an important part of growing up. It helps teach responsibility. But what about the health aspect of the situation?

Well, about the only thing you really have to be concerned with is whether the child is allergic to the fur of your pet. If this is the case, about the only sensible thing to do is to get rid of the animal.

Perhaps a pet of some other kind won't cause an allergic reaction.

Some time ago, you may recall, I discussed the "zoonoses," or the diseases which humans can catch from animals. But, as I pointed out at that time, most animals—even the elephant—are in greater danger of contracting diseases from us than we are of getting some from them.

Dogs can transmit only two diseases, rabies and hydatidosis. It is a simple matter to have a dog immunized against rabies and I urge every dog owner to have it done. Thus we can eliminate any danger of rabies from a household pet.

That leaves hydatidosis, a tapeworm disease, and here again a veterinarian can cure the trouble in your pet. Besides, rarely are such cases of a really serious nature.

Schwenksville Scouts Attend Camporee

Scouts of Schwenksville, troop 105, conducted a Pre-Valley Forge camporee on the farm of Norman Merrell, troop committeeman. A typical jamboree troop camp was set up on a 90 square foot plot of ground in preparation for the camporee at Valley Forge on July 22, 23 and 24. All cooking was done on charcoal stoves made by the boys during scout meetings.

Jamboree meals were prepared and the cooks from each patrol reported to the commissary tent to secure the food needed for their patrol for that meal.

Activities included log rolling, rope tossing, three-legged race, tire rolling and others. They also went swimming at Montgomery County park and had a campfire.

On Sunday, the boys were taken to church in Sassamansville where Charles Yerger received his God and Country award.

Leaders at camp part or full time were Norman Merrell, Lawrence Yerger, George Albright, Ruben High and Leonard Reed, scoutmaster.

Vocational Class Pupils Honored By Kiwanis Club

Three pupils were honored Tuesday night by the Kiwanis club for outstanding records in vocational classes. They each received a W. O. Cressman plaque.

They were Kathleen Frederick, Pottsgrove High school, home economics; Jerry Peck Jr., Owen J. Roberts High school, industrial arts, and Clyde Wasson, Pottstown Junior High school, industrial arts.

Presenting the plaques was W. O. Cressman who established the industrial program at Pottstown High school, and former secretary of the club.

Cressman also spoke on vocational education and pointed out that initially teachers of industrial education were simply tradesmen, whereas now they are qualified teachers.

WHEN THE PROGRAM first started there was a great deal of fear on the part of organized labor that the vocational program in the high school would flood the labor market, Cressman said. "But this has not been the case."

One of the results of the program has been to screen out the "misfits who don't belong in the trades and would have to be screened out at great expense by the employers," Cressman said.

The meeting was at the Elks lodge and was in charge of Willard Bickel, president. Dan Pettigrew was in charge of the program.

About $200 damage was done to each car, Chief Wilt said. Neither driver was injured.

Junior College Seen In Future Of High School

The possibility of Pottstown High school becoming a junior college in the far future was brought out Monday night by William H. McCabe, Pottstown High school teacher, who was guest speaker at the weekly Lions club meeting.

Speaking at the Brookside Country club, McCabe said the school system will improve because a greater stress is being placed on languages and college preparatory courses.

He added that students generally may start to attend a junior college between high school and college.

During the meeting, two recent high school graduates were honored and each given a $25 bond. They are Anthony I. Kostiner, a graduate of Pottstown High school and Mary Ann Prentice, a graduate of St. Pius X High school.

school about two years ago and never got a job. But it was the working status of her parents that seemingly started an argument ending in Kehler's wound near the spine.

* * *

KEHLER was fired from his steelworker's job near Norristown about three months ago. He met rent on his six room, century old house in Limerick, by helping run a 400 acre farm on Possum Hollow road.

His wife was a supervisor at Burroughs incorporated, Arcola.

According to Diane's testimony, the father was drinking Monday night and then upbraided Mrs. Kehler for having a job and leaving upkeep of their house to Diane. Mrs. Kehler reportedly accused her husband of loafing.

Diane said her father then went upstairs and grabbed a shotgun he bought for her last year. He reportedly then threatened Mrs. Kehler but Diane intervened.

There was a struggle and Mrs. Kehler pulled her husband's hair as Diane wrestled free the gun. As Kehler spun around the .410 shotgun discharged from Diane's hands.

Kehler walked or crept downstairs, staggered outside, gave an incoherent shout to a neighbor, Mrs. Roy Evans, and fell. It was 9:50 p. m.

Just 15 minutes before, Kehler's oldest boy, Donald, was watching television in Mrs. Evans' house. Mrs. Evans had declared, "It's about time for you to go to bed." Young Kehler went home.

Soon after he was scurrying to the home of another neighbor, Mrs. Stella Moyer, to breathlessly declare, "Get an ambulance. My sister just shot my father." The boy then turned and fled.

HE HAD RUN a half mile to summon an ambulance despite having a telephone in his own house. Police said the reason was that the 14 year old "probably was confused."

By the time detectives arrived, blood from Kehler's wound was mostly washed from the house. Mrs. Kehler told detectives she cleaned the stains because "I didn't want blood on the floor in front of my four children."

Besides Diane and Donald, the other Kehler youngsters at home are Robert, 12, and David, 9. A married daughter, Mrs. Jewel Burns, lives in Phoenixville.

An aunt, Mrs. Kenneth Kehler, Pottstown RD 3, said family arguments "were commonplace" in Diane's family. She said she "had it on good authority that Kehler was struck with a hatchet and with a shovel in two arguments last year."

She continued, "My brother-in-law sometimes went on binges when he would drink heavily for a week.

"Several times he was arrested for assaulting his family, but generally treated them okay," she declared.

KEHLER moved to Conshohocken from up state regions about 30 years ago. He owned a cafe in Conshohocken ten years ago and then moved to Lower Lewis road, Royersford.

He bought a few acres and attempted to erect a home while he and his family lived in a shack-like dwelling. Kehler lost the property and neighbors such as Clinton Christ, donated food to the family.

The Kehlers then moved to the 100 block of Hall street, Spring City, and two years ago moved to Limerick.

Detectives have not been able to question Kehler because of his critical condition. But they said they have "sufficient testimony for the time being from the rest of the family."

Investigation of neighbors will start today.

SCENE OF SHOOTING—Arrow shows window opening onto upstairs hallway where Albert Kehler, Limerick, was shot in the back Monday night. The shooting, police said followed a violent argument centering on Kehler's inability to find a job. The daughter, Diane, 17, told police she was trying to protect her mother from Kehler when the shooting occurred. But police say there are "discrepancies" in the girl's story.

The girl's mother said young Martha fell face-down in front of the tractor-drawn wagon. A front wheel of the wagon passed over the youngster's body.

Surgery Grants New Life

ous to an extent, from tonsilectomies on up to heart surgery."

"I wanted to get it over with, so I agreed," said Bonnie. "I wanted to go to college, and if I went with my heart that way, I wouldn't be able to do anything, and wouldn't have any fun anyway."

* * *

IF BONNIE was apprehensive about the operation looming before her, it didn't show in her school work. She had all the qualifications to enter college, but there was the question of financing education.

This occupied her mind as much as the operation, and she found an answer by winning a $1200 scholarship in competition with other children of Superior Tube company employes.

At Boyertown Area High school's award day, she received the $400 Leidy - Rhoads award and the $100 Veterans of Foreign Wars award.

She said, "I just decided I'd make an opportunity to go to college when I found there was the chance I wouldn't have the opportunity."

BONNIE GRADUATED May 31 and two days later entered the University of Pennsylvania hospital.

Friday morning, June 3, Bonnie was wheeled from her room and went under anesthesia at 6:30 a. m. She opened her eyes at 12 a. m. in the recovery room, her heart repaired—her life changed.

Two weeks later she was home, and her doctor is encouraging her to "do anything at all" as soon as she can.

Her cardiologist, Dr. John Hellwig, described the operation. The first such operation was done early in the 1950's, and only about 100 have been performed at the University hospital.

ANOTHER 50 "open heart" operations have been done with the heart-lung machine rather than by lowering the body temperature. Bonnie's condition called for lowering the body temperature.

Ten persons were involved in the operation—four surgeons, three nurses, two anesthesiologists and a cardiologist.

When Bonnie was unconscious, her body was wrapped in "surface cooling blankets," through which is pumped a refrigerant. This part of the preparation takes about two hours.

When her temperature dropped to 89 degrees (98.6 is normal), an incision was made in her chest, and her heart was exposed.

THE SURGEON closed off the great veins carrying blood into her heart, and the organ soon emptied itself.

Within three and a half minutes, the heart was opened, the quarter-sized hole located and sewn shut, and the heart closed.

The veins were untied, the incision closed, and Bonnie was warmed up again. The safety limit on the time the heart is open is only five minutes. The surgeons stayed well within the limit.

The operation is known as curative surgery. Bonnie was not merely "helped;" she is completely cured. At 3 p. m. that afternoon she was talking to her mother.

DR. HELLWIG didn't gloss over the seriousness of the surgery, but he said, "in Bonnie's case, the gamble in leaving things alone was much greater than the chances in the surgery."

The operation itself took between an hour and a half and two hours. Ten years ago, nothing could have been done but to restrict Bonnie to the life of a cripple.

Now Bonnie is slowly working herself back into an active life. She is looking forward to becoming a cheerleader at Kutztown State college, where she will study elementary education.

"It went so fast, I hardly noticed it, but I'm glad it's over.

"I'm so thankful it could be done. Now I can live a normal life, and I realize what could have happened if I didn't have the operation."

Bonnie has a 14 year old sister, Patricia, who attends Boyertown Area High school. Her mother work at the Tasty Luncheonette as a waitress.

The family attends St. John's Evangelical Lutheran church in Boyertown and lives at 34 South Franklin street.

FUTURE NURSE—Nancy L. Clamer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Francis J. Clamer of 342 Main street, Collegeville, has been accepted by the Pottstown Hospital School of Nursing and will begin her training there in the Fall.

Miss Clamer, a graduate in the Class of 1960 of Collegeville-Trappe High school, has also been named as the recipient of the $100 Nursing Scholarship Award given annually by the Community Club of Collegeville.

Area Auctioneer Buys 25 Acres In Spring City

The Bonnie Brae auction, Spring City, has been sold to Richard J. Moyer, auctioneer there for the past year.

Moyer purchased the entire 25 acre site which includes a former farmer's market, furniture auction barn and three houses. Moyer said that although the farmer's market part has not been in use lately, he intends to open that part in the near future.

The auction was owned by George G. Skelly who bought the property from Bonnie Brae park association in 1951. He will move near Wilmington, Del.

Moyer, who has been in the auction business for five years, said he hopes to have the business open every day to receive furniture and antiques and to make private sales. The regular auction night is Saturday.

He added that plans to improve the auction are being made.

U.S. TRIES ANOTHER SPACE 'FIRST'

Double-Header Rocket Is Launched

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—A U.S. double-header rocket thundered aloft Wednesday in quest of a space "first"—the placing of two satellites in orbit at one time.

One satellite is a second Transit navigation aid experiment; the other is for measuring soloar radiation.

Only one other rocket has attempted a satellite double header, and it failed last year. Actually, if all goes right this attempt, the rocket's second stage casing will orbit as well, making three satellites at one crack.

The two-stage launching vehicle, an Air Force Thor-Able-Star, lifted smoothly from this missile test site at 12:55 a.m. EST.

Guinness Turns Down $1,400,000

LONDON (AP)—Actor Sir Alec Guinness has turned down a 500,000-pound ($1,400,000) contract to appear on American television for a beer company.

He was asked to introduce 39 shows and to appear in 12 of them in an acting role.

Sir Alec Tuesday recorded a 30-minute radio program for which BBC will pay him 30 guineas — $88.20.

SIR ALEC GUINNESS

Why did Sir Alec turn down the American offer?

"It was advertising, and I would have despised myself for doing it," he said.

"I worked for an advertising agency when I was young—as a copy writer —and it was much against my will.

"I always wanted to leave and become an actor—and now I shall never go back. I would rather die in the gutter of poverty."

* * *

Sir Alec did not name the beer firm.

"It was a great deal of money and I would have been able to retire for life," he said.

"Perhaps in two or three years' time I will regret my decision, but I think happiness comes first.

"I am a happy man. I have a nice home, a very happy marriage and I have my dogs. What more could I want?"

Dietrich Causes Tel Aviv Jam

TEL AVIV, Israel (AP) — Marlene Dietrich caused one of the biggest traffic jams this bustling city ever saw when she visited a sportswear shop on Tel Aviv's main street Tuesday. When she came out she found the street blocked by a friendly crowd which police estimated at 15,000.

Having bought six pairs of slacks and other sportswear to the tune of about $400, she had to be smuggled out by a backdoor.

Her opening performance in a local movie before some 2,000 fans Sunday was followed by a 35-minute standing ovation. The German-born star who left Germany before Hitler, said, "I have suffered with you through the years. But for tonight it has been worth it."

Top Japanese Honor Bestowed On Old Enemy, Gen. MacArthur

NEW YORK (AP) — Gen. Douglas MacArthur, who masterminded the defeat of Japan and then directed the fallen nation's post-war rehabilitation, received a unique honor Tuesday from Emperor Hirohito.

The Japanese emperor awarded MacArthur the grand cordon of the Order of the Rising Sun with paulownia flowers —the highest honor Japan can bestow on a foreigner not a head of state.

GEN. DOUGLAS MacARTHUR

The award, presented on behalf of the emperor by Mitsuo Tanaka, Japanese Consul General, cited MacArthur for "great contributions to the post-war reconstruction of Japan and to the development of the immense reservoir of good will that exists between our two nations today."

Said MacArthur, who served as Supreme Commander of Allied Forces in the Far East that defeated the Japanese in World War II and then served as Supreme Commander of the Allied Occupations Forces:

"No honor I have ever received has moved me more deeply than this one. I can recall no parallel in the history of the world when a great nation recently at war so distinguished its former enemy commander."

MacArthur received the award in a brief ceremony in his Waldorf Towers suite in the Waldorf Astoria Hotel. The emperor had ordered the award May 17.

The general, without referring to the Communist-inspired Tokyo rioting that caused the cancellation of President Eisenhower's visit there, said that most Japanese are convinced their future lies with the free world, especially the United States.

Mine Workers Picket Funerals

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Two funerals were conducted at a Pittsburgh mortuary Tuesday—with pickets on the sidewalk.

The pickets at the Beinhauer mortuary were members of District 50 of the United Mine Workers. Several embalmers, funeral directors and crematory workers walked off the job to gain union recognition.

Members of the Beinhauer family performed the duties ordinarily handled by employes. A spokesman for the mortuary said the volume of business and number of employes was not sufficient to meet the standards of the National Labor Relations board. The union, which did not explain the action, withdrew a request to the NLRB to set up procedure to determine if the union should be recognized as bargaining agent.

LONDON (AP)—Film producer Val Guest had a favorite canvas chair he'd used on movie sets since 1938 and it had been sat in by such luminaries as Bette Davis, Robert Mitchum and Jean Simmons. Now it has been lost in transit in France and he's put up a reward for its recovery.

Fewer Bugs Present In American Food

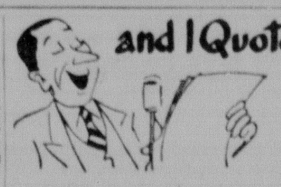

TORQUAY, England (AP) — Britons have more bugs in their food than New Yorkers, a British doctor said Tuesday.

"The most impressive thing about New York, after the Empire State Building, is the very high standard of food handling there," Dr. W. P. Kennedy told a panel discussion at the British Medical Assn.

"Even the transport cafes, which the Americans call 'greasy spoons,' are far more hygienic than those in Britain."

AO of H Officer Asks Delegates For New Project

Mrs. Arthur Buchert, 317 North Hills boulvard, vice president of the Ancient Order of Hibernians, made an appeal for a new project to delegates at the 70th biennial state convention in Pittsburgh.

She was accompanied by Mrs John Murphy, Pottstown Star Route, chairman of missions for the local group.

In addressing delegates, Mrs Buchert asked the group to add another project "to their many charities." She asked them to give finincial aid to promote the study of Irish music and culture among needy students in Ireland.

Mrs. Buchert emphasized the fact that many gifted children there are unable to develope talents fully because of financial difficulties.

She added, "there is a great need among them for help and encouragement. Financial aid given in contest would be an incentive to many to take an active interest in their own national culture."

Delegates responded by awarding a scholarship to be competed for yearly at the Music festival in Dublin Ireland.

On behalf of the Montgomery county division, Mrs. Murphy asked delegates to accept a trophy to be given the winner in Dublin and to be competed for yearly. Her offer was accepted

Clothes Care

By Maurice Miller

"Can My Velvet Dress Be Drycleaned?"—Mrs. R. T. J.

Dear Mrs. R. T. J.:

Yes, velvets are definitely drycleanable. However, some of the new novelty velvets which leaped to popularity this season need special care.

Some velvets are treated with a silicone finish. Some two-toned and others have many colors contrasting with white or black backgrounds. There is a rayon Lyons-type velvet which has a special finish for resiliency. There are some novelty velvets with designs on a moired background. You can see that these velvets require special care when you wear them as well as when they are drycleaned. This professional drycleaner will give your velvets the cleaning care they should have.

By the way, Mrs. R. T. J., you know what a nuisance lint is on your velvets. You will welcome this lint hint if you have to remove lint at home and do not have any of the many lint removers at hand. Wrap a small piece of adhesive tape, sticky side out, around a wooden block. Brush the surface of your velvet lightly and, presto — no lint! Of course, always placing your velvet garment in a garment bag will protect it from lint, too.

Enjoy your velvets, Mrs. R. T. J., assured that we can clean them perfectly for you.

Where's Furnace? You May Have To Look Twice

Where's the furnace or boiler? In today's modern home you may have to look a bit to find this silent, inconspicuous but hard-working item of equipment.

Design improvements have steadily reduced the size of the gas central heating plant. The furnace or boiler, in its trim enameled jacket, may be part of a lineup in an efficient utility room. It may be behind louvered doors in a closet or alcove.

But it's doing a bigger job than ever. Figures for recent years show a trend towards higher capacities, with heating equipment keeping up with the march to bigger homes for larger families.

MR. AND MRS. JOHN T. STAFFORD

Staffords Honeymooning in Canada Following Marriage at New Hanover

Mr. and Mrs. John T. Stafford are honeymooning in Canada following their marriage Saturday in the New Hanover Lutheran church. The Rev. Edgar M. Cooper officiated at the 3 p. m. ceremony.

The bride is the former Ruth Wolfgang, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter J. Wolfgang, Perkiomenville RD 1. Parents of the bridegroom, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Stafford reside in Broomall.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor length gown of silk tulle over taffeta, fashioned with a jeweled sabrina neckline, short sleeves and a shirred bodice. The bouffant skirt featured lace appliques adorned with pearls and iridescents.

A pearl and iridescent crown held her fingertip veil of illusion.

Mrs. Frederick Johnson was bridesmaid for her sister. Another sister, Arlene Wolfgang and Mrs. Samuel Mortimer were bridesmaids.

Attendants were gowned alike in pink silk organza. An empire band of organza, adorned with a self rose, underscored the tucked, fitted bodice of the ballerina models.

Their headpieces were matching crowns with circular veils.

Mother of the bride, Mrs. Wolfgang, wore a dress of gray lace over pink taffeta with black and pink accessories and an orchid corsage.

William Stafford, brother of the bridegroom, was best man. Guests were ushered by Falliss Stafford and Samuel Stafford, also brothers of the bridegroom.

White flowers and palms decorated the church for the wedding. Mrs. Leonard Saylor was organist and Janet Clemmer, soloist.

Guests were received at Limerick firehall. They attended from Broomall, Norristown, Philadelphia, Canada and the surrounding area.

When the bride left for her honeymoon, she was wearing a white dress with red and white accessories. The couple will reside in West Chester.

The new Mrs. Stafford is a graduate of Boyertown High school and West Chester State Teachers college. She is employed by Spring-Ford school district. Mr. Stafford, a salesman for Abbotts dairies, attended schools in Ireland.

A pre-nuptial shower was given for the bride by her attendants.

Saving is a habit, can become automatic it's like paying a regular bill! Get into the habit of saving and many of the things that are mere "dreams" right now can become reality in a time. A "dream" of every parent is to send their child through college. And the "College Club Plan" was designed to make that dream come true, no matter what the parent's income may be!

FIRST FEDERAL SAVINGS AND LOAN ASSOCIATION, located at 21 North Hanover street, offers this plan to set an actual goal, a practical way to get to the goal! They find out the age of your child, the amount you can afford to save, and the amount you will need. (They have charts that tell you the costs of colleges and universities throughout the country). Then they help you arrive at a sensible plan for saving. And at First Federal your money earns more! They pay 3½% dividend, a great help in building up that savings account! The advantage of this College Club Plan is that in case of emergency you need not make a deposit, of course, and there is no penalty. Or you may withdraw your money, still get the full amount of dividends earned, should that be necessary. Your account is insured up to $10,000 by a part of the United States Government. One of the most helpful parts of this plan is that your child takes an active interest in the account, he will be eager to put his pennies into his own account when he is little, his dollars earned will go into it later on. It is a symbol of his future success and happiness — a reason for him to work harder in school and get good grades! Let First Federal help you with a College Club Plan, or let them help you with any other financial matter. It is a friendly, cheerful place to visit, and they are interested in your individual problems or plans. Their expert advice and help is FREE, why not take advantage of it?

Easier to Clean New Gas Range Now on Market

Modern Gas ranges are easier than ever to keep clean.

At a recent Home Furnishings Market in Chicago, many gas range manufacturers stressed ease of cleaning in promoting their new lines. Features emphasized by manufacturers include: disposable foil drip pans around burners, roll-out and tear-off foil covering the bottom of ovens and broilers, easy to remove oven doors and oven windows, clog proof burner ports.

Manufacturers of the new and glamorous built-in Gas ranges say they are a cinch to keep clean. Here are a few simple range cleaning tips for built in owners:

1. Wipe chrome and enamel parts clean in a jiffy with a damp cloth.
2. Use a good chrome cleaner on stubborn chrome stains.
3. Baking soda and a damp cloth is recommended for stubborn enamel stains.
4. Harsh and gritty cleaners should be avoided because they will destroy the shiny polished look of new ranges.
5. Acid stains from vinegar, sour milk, lemon, grapefruit, or tomatoes should be wiped off immediately.

Ingo, Floyd to Meet Again

Patterson Talks of Big Campaign With Heavies

By JACK HAND
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

NEW YORK (AP)—Both Floyd Patterson and Ingemar Johansson talked of a third match as soon as possible Tuesday after their second heavyweight title fight drew a gate of $824,891 plus an estimated $3,000,000 in supplementary rights. The paid attendance was 31,892.

Irving Kahn, president of the closed circuit company (TelePrompTer) that held theater, radio and movie rights estimated that Patterson and Johansson each would get between $800,000 and $900,000 from those receipts.

That would be in addition to an estimated $175,000 each from the gate. The all time record for a fighter's purse is the $990,445 that Gene Tunney received for his second fight with Jack Dempsey at Chicago in 1927.

Bill Fugazy, a director of Feature Sports, incorporated, promoting its first fight, said his organization held the rematch contracts calling for Patterson to defend his re-won title within 90 days.

* * *

"WE WANT to consult the fighters and their advisers within a few days to determine when and where it should be held," said Fugazy. "We are disturbed about the lack of cooperation by the New York police department. Perhaps it doesn't belong here if we are going to get that kind of support."

Bids from other cities already were being received. A Chicago official expressed interest Monday night. Erwin Weiner, director of special events for the Chicago Park district said "someone" has approached him about holding the third fight in Soldier field. Philadelphia also was interested among other cities.

"I'd like to fight Ingemar within 90 days," said Patterson at a noon press conference.

The first former heavyweight champ to regain his title was in fine spirits as he answered questions before a battery of microphones in a midtown hotel.

"IF I should win," he continued. "I would like to negotiate with other contenders, possibly (Sonny) Liston."

Cus D'Amato, his manager who is unlicensed in New York, sat next to Patterson at the conference. When the 25-year-old was asked if he would consider fighting in New York again without D'Amato in his corner, he said, "Cus had better answer that."

D'Amato quickly answered. "Floyd will fight where he can get the most money. If anybody will pay more money, that is where he will fight."

When a newsman asked Patterson if he thought the public wanted another fight with Johansson, the champ replied:

"I think so, if you look as it this way: In the first fight I definitely was overconfident from what I had read. I was surprised. In the second fight Ingemar more or less underestimated me because things had been so easy for him. The third should decide the championship."

BARTH STOPS VISITORS IN RELIEF ROLE

Daring Base Running Aids Initial League Success At Enterprise Field

By DUKE DeLUCA
(Mercury Sports Writer)

Pete Berth's scintillating relief stint and some daring base running Tuesday carried Pottstown's Legion Steelers to their first Ches-Mont league win.

These combined factors produced a comeback 7-4 triumph over Downingtown and a second first for the USWA-2326-Post 47-sponsored baseballers. Their initial loop success at new Enterprise field.

Manager Pat Sundstrom played the Svengali role and the Steelers responded nobly after falling behind in the early innings.

When starter Nick Petro displayed a complete lack of control in the second inning, Sundstrom rushed Barth to the rescue. And the move proved to be a master stroke.

BARTH, with just cursory warmup, inherited a bases-loaded situation after Downingtown had scored three times off the floundering Petro.

The crafty southpaw walked in a fourth run but put an end to the visitors' festivities with two key strikeouts.

He collected 10 more strikeouts through the final five innings while surrendering just four hits and no runs.

Barth's exhibition evened his mound record at 1-1 and went a long way toward helping the Steelers square their league mark, also at 1-1.

DOWNINGTOWN'S quartet of tallies, which came on four bases on balls, two singles and a hit batsman, wiped out a first inning run by the Steelers and gave starter and loser Elwood (Wood) Stringer a working margin.

Bruce Ricketts had given the Steelers the short-lived advantage by scoring from second on Dave DiEugenio's throwing error after getting aboard via a single and moving to second on Pete Millard's bunt single.

The righthanded Stringer failed to protect the margin for very long. He allowed the Steelers to tie the fray in the third, although it wasn't entirely his fault.

Millard reached on an error, went to second on a second miscue and plated on Bill Logan's single. Bobby Yeager scratched a single to deep short, Petro walked and Barry Swartz delivered a two-run single to left center.

* * *

THE DARING base running came in the fifth and served to wrap up the decision.

Bob Goodhart started the beginning of the end for Downingtown with an infield bingle. An error put him on second and he managed to steal third and home on successive pitches.

Yeager reached on another Downingtown bobble, Petro beat out a bunt and Swartz followed suit, filling the bases.

With Jim Clements at bat, Sundstrom gave the sign for a

Williams Belts 2 Homers, But A's Turn Back Red Sox by 11-7 Margin

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Left-hander Bud Daley chalked up his 10th victory Tuesday night, beating the Boston Red Sox 11-7 behind the lusty hitting of his Kansas City Athletics teammates.

The victory, his ninth in a row, ran his record to 10-2. But he had to have help in the eighth inning, after yielding four runs to the Red Sox on four hits and two walks. Bob Trowbridge took over with two out and finished up.

Ted Williams drove in four of the Boston runs with his 10th and 11th homers and a single.

Jerry Lumpe and Marv Throneberry homered for the A's—each getting No. 5.

The loss went to Jerry Casale, who was 4-0 against the A's last year.

He departed in favor of Tom Sturdivant after yielding six consecutive hits, including a homer and a double, without getting a man out in the first inning. Casale is now 2-6.

Daley gave up 10 hits, struck out two and walked three.

WIMBLEDON, (AP)—Two vibrant California tomboys—Darlene Hard and Karen Hantze—Tuesday led the powerful American assault on the Women's Tennis singles championship at sun baked Wimbledon.

They were joined in this happy effort by Mrs. Laura Lou Bryan, a pretty daughter of the old South and Janet Hopps, U.S. Wightman cup team captain from Seattle.

SIX RUN 3D DEALS BEARS 4TH SETBACK

Feick Fails to Survive 1st; Woolwine Gets Loss

READING—The host Gregg Post Keys employed a six-run third inning to hand Boyertown's Legion Bears a 9-5 Berks league reversal at Municipal stadium here Tuesday night.

The loss—third in a row for the Bears—leveled their league record at 4-4. The Bears employed three pitchers, only one of whom had any great measure of success against the Keys.

The big fourth erased a 4-3 Boyertown lead that had come in the second. The Keys sent 10 batters to the plate in the inning, coupling five singles, a double and an error for the six runs.

The Keys opened the contest with three runs in the first that chased Feick, who was able to retire but two batters while surrending two singles and a double, a walk and a hit batter.

* * *

BOB WOOLWINE came on in the first to retire the side, and was given a one-run pad when the Bears coupled four singles with a base on balls and a fielder's choice to take the lead in the second.

Woolwine bore the brunt of the third inning Key uprising before giving way to Dick Kaufman with five runs in. Kaufman retired the side, but not before being tagged with the sixth run.

From that point however, Kaufman kept the Keys in check while fanning five. The damage however, had been done.

The Bears got a final run in the sixth on Kaufman's triple and Tony Lucarelli's squeeze bunt.

Phils Win Opener, Lead 7-5 In Halted Nightcap

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The Philadelphia Phillies defeated the Chicago Cubs 7-6 in the first game of a twi-night doubleheader Tuesday night and then held a 7-5 lead in the nightcap suspended after eight innings because of the National League curfew rule.

The opener, played before 26,233 at Connie Mack Stadium, lasted 4 hours, 6 minutes before Tony Curry smashed a single off Don Zimmer's glove to score Al Dark with the winning run in the 13th inning.

The second game halted in observance of the rule against starting an inning after 12:50 a.m., was played under protest by Chicago Manager Lou Boudreau following a fifth inning dispute.

A spectator picked up a wild throw made by second baseman Don Zimmer on a infield single by Ken Walters and Tony Gonzalez, who was on first and running with the pitch, was permitted to score.

Zimmer protested vigorously and was tossed out of the game by Umpire Ed Vargo.

The Phillies won a battle of home runs in the opener although a wild pitch made by losing reliver Glenn Hobbie set up the clincher.

Ernie Banks, the majors' leading home run hitter, clouted two raising his total to 20—half of them this month.

Three Distaff Golfers Share Brookside First

Ladies Day golf at Brookside country club Tuesday produced a hotly-contested battle for Class A honors in this week's "Best Odd Holes" event.

Careful compilation of the score cards revealed a three-way tie for top laurels.

The Mrs. Carl Binder, Harold Federman and Russell Freed shared the spoils.

Mrs. Abe Pollock ruled alone in Class B and the Class C first went to Mrs. Edward Hoffman.

* * *

'FIRST - PLACE deadlocks seemed to be the vogue. The 49ers (nine-hole participants) division also wound up tied.

The Mrs. Flo Harterstine and Ruth King posted identical scores in fronting the shorter competition.

Mrs. Freed managed a solo first by annexing the Class A putting pool .

Mrs. Pollock had the least putts in B, thereby sweeping the class honors, and Mrs. Ronald Brown captured the Class C green award.

The 49er putting prize went to Mrs. King.

Mantle Belts 2 Homers, Yanks Blank Detroit 6-0

DETROIT (AP) — New York's revitalized Yankees, with Mickey Mantle back on the home run beam, smashed down their old tormentor, Frank Lary, and ran Detroit's scoreless string to 27 innings Tuesday night with a 6-0 victory.

Whitey Ford turned in his second shutout of the season, and his first victory in nearly a month with a four-hitter.

Mantle cracked two home runs, his 15th and 16th, on consecutive at-bats in the sixth and seventh innings. His first was a solo smash and his second knocked in Ford, who had singled.

The Yankee slugger, on a hitting streak since June 1, has belted eight home runs in his last 11 starts and has lifted his average 50 points to .276. He had a single in addition to his home runs.

It was the second time New York has defeated Lary this season, and not since 1957 have the Yankees been able to whip the Tiger veteran twice in one season. Lary was 7-1 against them in 1958 and 5-1 last year. His career mark against the Yankees stands at 22-8.

The first-place New Yorkers have won 14 of their last 16 starts. Ford, only man to lose in the Yank's recent surge to the top, had not won a game since May 26. The only hits he allowed were singles, and from the fourth through the ninth, he retired the last 17 batters.

Man With the Answers

Pirates Edge Cards 3-2 As Law Gains 11th Win

PITTSBURGH (AP)—A brilliant ninth-inning pitching performance by the Pittsburgh Pirates' bullpen ace, Elroy Face, helped the Pirates to a 3-2 victory over St. Louis Tuesday night and preserved a victory for starter Vernon Law, the winningest pitcher in the majors with 11-2.

Law had been sailing along with a 3-1 edge and had given up only five hits until the ninth when singles by Walt Moryn, Carl Sawatski and Curt Flood scored a Card run and left runners on first and second with nobody out.

Face then came on. Curt Simmons, who ran for Swatski, was picked off second base by the little relief ace for one out. Face then struck out Daryl Spencer and Stan Musial to retire the side.

Law struck out five and walked only one during the eight innings that he twirled.

Dick Groat and Bill Mazeroski paced the Pirates' seven hit attack. Groat drove in two runs with a pair of singles. Mazeroski singled three times.

The Cardinals' starting pitcher, Bob Gibson, pitched 6 1-3 innings, gave up seven hits and all three Pirate runs. The loss was his first decision.

Ernie Broglio and Bob Duliba shared the Cards' pitching chores after Gibson's departure and held the Pirates scoreless.

BRAVES TAKE DOUBLE BILL FROM GIANTS

Milwaukee Wins Opener, 9-6, Takes 2-1 Nightcap

MILWAUKEE (AP) — The surging Milwaukee Braves jolted the San Francisco Giants by sweeping a twi-night doubleheader 9-6 and 2-1 Tuesday night as Red Schoendienst came through with a decisive single with one out in the 12th inning of the nightcap.

The Braves, who have won six of their last seven outings, nudged across a run against veteran right-hander Sam Jones, who relieved starter Jack Sanford at the start of the 12th, to end a 3 hour, 24 minute marathon as the curfew time neared.

Jones, (9-6), got the first batter to start the inning but appeared shaken as Al Spangler beat out a perfect bunt down the third base line.

Spangler moved to second on a wild pitch and Charlie Lau walked to set the stage for Schoendienst. The 37-year-old second baseman then came through with a line hit over short and Spangler raced home.

Sanford and southpaw Juan Pizarro allowed only one run each before the game went into overtime. Pizarro was lifted for a pinch hitter in the ninth and Bob Buhl hurled shutout ball to gain his seventh victory in 10 decisions.

Pizarro surrendered a run in the fourth on a double by Orlando Cepeda, a bunt by Willie Kirkland and a sacrifice fly. The Braves tied the count in their half on a single by Billy Bruton, an infield out and a double by Eddie Mathews.

Baby Steelers, Lower Pottsgrove 9s Record Ches-Mont Connie Mack Wins

Pottstown's Baby Steelers backed up Ron Hallman's four-hit pitching with nine blows off Don Reigner and handed the Northern Chester county Judges a 6-2 setback at Bucktown Tuesday.

The victory erased an earlier Ches-Mont Connie Mack loop tie between the two clubs that had prevailed since the league opener.

The Judges lost their second game in as many days as a result, having bowed to the Stowe Lions, 8-5 previously, while the Steelers had engaged the Douglass-New Hanover Lions in another tie on Monday, this time at 2-2.

In Tuesday's tilt the USWA 2326-Post 47 sponsored Steelers reached Reigner for two runs in the first inning, added a single in the fifth, two more in the sixth and capped their offensive with a final tally in the seventh.

* * *

THE JUDGES' runs came in the fourth and sixth.

In other activity Limerick shaded Starr Hill (Phoenixville) 7-5 and Lower Pottsgrove tripped the Phoenixville Tigers, 9-5 at Phoenixville.

Skip Chryst came on in relief of Bob Smith in the second inning, and pitched four and a third innings of four-hit ball, surrendering one run to collect the victory for Lower Pottsgrove.

He struck out seven and walked one.

A three-run fourth inning gave the Shamrocks some breathing space in the Junior league standings, as the front-runners turned back Kenilworth, 5-2 at Memorial park.

The big blow of the inning was Bob Sovizal's pinch three run homer. Sovizal was swinging for Paul Anzulewitz, the starting left fielder.

The winners came back to score two insurance runs in the sixth.

Kenilworth had been pushing the unbeaten Shamrocks in the standings with a 3-0 log. It was the Chester countians' first loss. The Shamrocks took their fifth in a row.

Tom Coyle singled home Rich Padden with the deciding run in the seventh inning as the Elks shaded the Pottstown Optimists, 4-3 in a Knee-Hi league tilt at Memorial park

The victory snapped the Optimists' undefeated string at three games and dropped them into a fourth place tie with Holy Trinity and Levengoods at 3-1.

The Elks, who evened their record at 2-2, had held the lead twice, but each time the Optimists had battled back to tie the score, the last time with a run in the fifth.

In addition to scoring and driving in the winning run, Padden and Coyle shared the pitching chores.

Cincy Relievers Halt Dodgers in 6-4 Redlegs Win

CINCINNATI (AP)—It took two relief pitchers—Joe Nuxhall and Jim Brosnan—to hold off the Los Angeles Dodgers Tuesday night and nail down a 6-4 victory for the Cincinnati Reds.

Starter Bob Purkey, tagged with two homers and four runs in the sixth, turned the job over to Nuxhall two innings later.

But with two out in the ninth, Charley Neal banged a sharp single off Nuxhall and Brosnan took over, fanning pinch-hitter Norm Sherry to end the game.

The Reds roughed up Dodger starter John Podres freely and out hit the Dodgers, 12-9.

Conventional Stock Upsurge Appears Slowing to a Walk

By JACK LEFLER
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—Enthusiasm which developed for conventional stocks two or three weeks ago seems to have slowed to a walk, a Wall Street analyst commented Tuesday.

When the stock market was climbing sharply, the motors, steels, oil, rails and aircrafts showed new signs of life.

But now, noted L. O. Hooper of W. E. Hutton & Co., these old standbys have backed away from their highs.

Instead, there has developed "a clamor for things that move and for quick results."

"The quality of public participation in the market seems to have deteriorated," said Hooper, "more and more, brokers observe an appetite for stocks that will move rather than a desire for ideas that represent good value over a longer period.

"Brokers are besieged to suggest stocks that they think might be fast movers. There is especially heavy demand for information and advice regarding little-known over-the-counter situations, many of them stocks which were not even traded a few weeks ago."

Hooper added that he felt the "present low quality of speculation" probably is a factor in delaying the anticipated reduction in New York stock exchange margin requirements.

Currently an investor is required to put up 90 per cent of the cost of stock that he buys.

The investment advisory firm, Spear & Staff, Inc., contends that the bearishness about the economy was overdone in February, March and April.

"We refused then to be stampeded into any predictions that the economy and the Dow Jones industrial average would collapse," Spear says. "With earnings likely to be down generally in the second quarter, we are likewise not going to join the crowd in predicting any immediate big gains for the average.

"We think it will do well to consolidate near present levels for some time to come. However, in a market as diversified as this one, the short-term trend of the average is not of major significance."

* * *

Joseph Granville of E. F. Hutton & Co. considers the current degree of imbalance in the market a cause for concern.

He says 30 or 40 stocks could be the core of market strength and adds:

"The advances in some of these issues has been nothing short of sensational in terms of time and amplitude but such concentrated activity has seemingly drawn upon the bulk of the remaining list and, without good sustained buying in the steels, motors, oils and other major cyclical groups, sustained market rallies at this point will have a relatively short life."

'THANK YOU' FETE IS SET BY SCHWEIKER

Candidate Plans To Honor Workers

Richard S. Schweiker, Republican nominee for Congress in Montgomery county, will host a "thank you" banquet for approximately 600 workers Friday night at the Sunnybrook ballroom.

The banquet is described by Schweiker as "a matter of recognition for the work the many people have done in helping win my nomination."

Schweiker, running independently, upset two term incumbent Representative John A. LaFore Jr. in the April primaries.

The leaders from different areas of the county will be called on for a few words, and Schweiker will deliver the main address.

The young Lansdale businessman will thank those who helped him, relate interesting and humorous experiences encountered during the primaries and discuss plans for the upcoming Fall elections.

Thomas A. McCaslin 3d, Schweiker's area leader in Pottstown, said a large group of Schweiker workers from this vicinity will be attending.

Former Sheriff's Account Examined

In the course of an audit of the Montgomery county Sheriff's office, a dormant account of former Sheriff R. Ronald Dettra has been examined.
